Adelaide Crows (South Australia)

Established in 1990, the Adelaide Crows were one of the first expansion clubs outside Victoria. They quickly found success, winning back-to-back premierships in 1997 and 1998. Known for their passionate fan base at the Adelaide Oval, the Crows wear navy blue and gold. Their identity is deeply tied to the spirit of South Australia.

Brisbane Lions (Queensland)

The Brisbane Lions were formed in 1996 through a merger of the Fitzroy Lions (a VFL original) and the Brisbane Bears. This fusion created a powerhouse, with the club winning three consecutive premierships from 2001 to 2003. The Lions are known for their attacking style of play and the incredible atmosphere at the Gabba. Their maroon, blue, and gold guernsey is iconic.

Carlton Blues (Victoria)

One of the oldest and most successful clubs in the league, Carlton was founded in 1864. They are a founding member of the VFL/AFL and have won 16 premierships, second only to Essendon and Collingwood. The Blues are known for their navy blue guernsey and a fierce rivalry with Collingwood. Princes Park (Ikon Park) is their traditional home, though they play most games at the MCG and Marvel Stadium.

Collingwood Magpies (Victoria)

Collingwood is arguably the most famous club in Australia. Founded in 1892, they boast the largest membership base in the league and a record-equalling 16 premierships. They are known for the black and white stripes, the passionate "Collingwood Army," and their home ground at the Melbourne Cricket Ground. The Magpies are a cornerstone of any list of AFL teams in alphabetical order.

Essendon Bombers (Victoria)

Founded in 1872, Essendon is another powerhouse with 16 premierships to its name. Known as the "Bombers" or "Dons," they wear a distinctive black guernsey with a red sash. Their home ground is the Melbourne Cricket Ground. Essendon has a rich history of champions, including the legendary John Coleman, and maintains a bitter rivalry with Carlton and Collingwood.

Fremantle Dockers (Western Australia)

The Dockers joined the AFL in 1995 as the second team from Western Australia. Based at Fremantle Oval and playing home games at Optus Stadium, they are known for their purple and white colours. While they have not yet won a premiership, they have been a consistent finals contender, reaching the Grand Final in 2013. Their nickname pays homage to the port city of Fremantle.

Geelong Cats (Victoria)

Located south-west of Melbourne, the Geelong Cats were founded in 1859, making them one of the oldest clubs in the world. They have won 10 premierships, including a dominant period from 2007 to 2011. The Cats are famous for their home ground, Kardinia Park (GMHBA Stadium), a fortress where they are notoriously difficult to beat. Their navy blue and white hoops are instantly recognizable.

Gold Coast Suns (Queensland)

The Suns entered the AFL in 2011 as the league's 17th club. Based on the Gold Coast, they play at Heritage Bank Stadium. The Suns wear red, yellow, and blue, representing the coastal lifestyle. They are still building their history and are developing a strong young list, aiming for their first finals appearance in the coming years.

Greater Western Sydney (GWS) Giants (New South Wales)

Joining the league alongside the Gold Coast in 2012, the Giants represent Western Sydney and the surrounding regions. They wear orange, charcoal, and white. Despite their youth, the Giants have been highly competitive, reaching a Grand Final in 2019. Their academy system is one of the best in the league, producing top young talent.

Hawthorn Hawks (Victoria)

Melbourne Demons (Victoria)

The Melbourne Football Club is the oldest professional football club in the world, founded in 1858. The Deans wear navy blue and red. After a long premiership drought dating back to 1964, they broke through in 2021 with a famous Grand Final victory. Their home ground is the Melbourne Cricket Ground, and they have a proud history despite many years of struggle.

North Melbourne Kangaroos (Victoria)

Founded in 1869, North Melbourne has won four premierships (1975, 1977, 1996, 1999). Known as the Kangaroos, they wear royal blue and white stripes. They have played home games at Marvel Stadium and the Melbourne Cricket Ground. The club is famous for its "Shinboner Spirit" and a loyal, passionate supporter base.

Port Adelaide Power (South Australia)

Port Adelaide is one of the most successful clubs in Australian football history, with 36 SANFL premierships before joining the AFL in 1997. They have won one AFL premiership (2004). Known as the Power, they wear teal, black, and white and play at the Adelaide Oval. Their fierce rivalry with the Adelaide Crows is one of the best in the league.

Richmond Tigers (Victoria)

Richmond was founded in 1885. While they struggled for much of the late 20th century, the Tigers have become a modern powerhouse, winning three premierships in four years (2017, 2019, 2020). They wear a famous yellow sash on a black guernsey and play at the Melbourne Cricket Ground. The "Tiger Army" is one of the loudest and most devoted fan bases in the game.

St Kilda Saints (Victoria)

Founded in 1873, St Kilda has a long and often heartbreaking history. They have won only one premiership (1966) but have been runners-up on many occasions, including 2009 and 2010. Known for their red, white, and black stripes, the Saints play at Marvel Stadium. They are a club defined by resilience and hope.

Sydney Swans (New South Wales)

Originally the South Melbourne Swans (founded 1874), the club relocated to Sydney in 1982 to become the Sydney Swans. This move was a major step in making the AFL a truly national competition. They have won five premierships, including the famous 2005 grand final. The Swans wear red and white and play at the Sydney Cricket Ground (SCG).

West Coast Eagles (Western Australia)

The Eagles entered the VFL in 1987 and quickly became a powerhouse. They have won four premierships (1992, 1994, 2006, 2018). Based in Perth, they play at Optus Stadium and wear royal blue and gold. West Coast has one of the largest and most passionate supporter bases in the league, often selling out their home games.

Western Bulldogs (Victoria)

Originally the Footscray Football Club (founded 1877), the Western Bulldogs have won two premierships: one in 1954 and a famous, fairytale victory in 2016. They wear royal blue, white, and red. Known for the "Dogs," they play at Marvel Stadium. Their 2016 premiership is one of the greatest stories in AFL history, breaking a 62-year drought.

Understanding the Structure of the AFL

Now that you have the list of AFL teams in alphabetical order, it is useful to understand how the competition works. The AFL season typically runs from March to September, with each team playing 22 to 24 home-and-away matches. The top eight teams at the end of the season enter a finals series, culminating in the Grand Final, which is held at the Melbourne Cricket Ground in front of 100,000 fans.

The league is unique because it is a single national competition, with no promotion or relegation. This stability allows clubs to build long-term strategies and deep connections with their communities. The list of AFL teams in alphabetical orderreflects a blend of historic Victorian clubs and modern expansion teams, creating a rich tapestry of sporting culture.

The Importance of Home Grounds

Each club in the list of AFL teams in alphabetical orderhas a traditional home ground, though many also play at larger stadiums for blockbuster games. The Melbourne Cricket Ground (MCG) is the spiritual home of the sport, hosting the Grand Final and many marquee matches. Marvel Stadium in Docklands is another key venue. In Adelaide, the Adelaide Oval hosts both South Australian clubs. In Perth, Optus Stadium is a world-class arena for the West Coast Eagles and Fremantle Dockers. The Gabba in Brisbane and the Sydney Cricket Ground (SCG) in Sydney are historic grounds that add character to the league.
