Exploring the Enhanced World of Pokemon Volt White 2: A Complete Guide to Pokemon Locations

For dedicated Pokemon fans who crave a fresh challenge, ROM hacks like Pokemon Volt White 2 offer a revitalized experience. Created by the talented modder Drayano, this hack dramatically overhauls the original Pokemon Black 2 and White 2 games. One of the most exciting changes is the redesigned Pokemon Volt White 2 Pokemon Locationssystem. Trainers will discover new species in familiar routes, encounter rare Pokemon much earlier, and face a much wider variety of wild creatures than in the vanilla game. This guide serves as your comprehensive companion to navigating these altered habitats, helping you build the perfect team without endless hours of searching.

Understanding these location changes is crucial for success. The game's difficulty has been increased, making team composition and type coverage more important than ever. Whether you are hunting for a specific competitive Pokemon or simply want to see everything the hack has to offer, this breakdown of key areas will save you time and frustration. Let's dive into the regions of Unova and uncover where your next partner might be hiding.

Starting Strong: Early Game Pokemon Locations in Aspertia City and Route 19

The journey begins in Aspertia City, and right from the start, Pokemon Volt White 2 Pokemon Locations differ drastically. Instead of the usual Patrat and Purrloin, you will find a variety of early-game staples redesigned to give you more options.

Route 19 – The Grass and Cave Encounters

Just outside Aspertia City, the tall grass on Route 19 has been repopulated. Here are some notable additions:

- Rattata, Sentret, Zigzagoon: Common early normal-types that can be useful for pickup abilities.
- Growlithe and Vulpix: Depending on your game version (Volt White 2 uses Black 2 as a base but often merges exclusives), you may encounter either of these fire-types very early, a huge advantage against Grass-type opponents.
- Pikachu: A rare encounter, but present, giving you access to the Electric rodent before the first gym.

Floccesy Ranch – A Haven for New Species

Moving on to Floccesy Ranch, the grassy expanses are now teeming with options. Look for Riolu in the rustling grass (a 5% encounter rate, but well worth it), along with Eevee in a special hidden grove near the ranch house. You can also find Mareep, Shinx, and Elekid here, providing excellent Electric-type coverage for the upcoming

Gible type

- Shroomish and Breloom – Excellent physical attackers that can learn Fighting moves.
- In the deeper interior, Deerling and Sawsbuck can be found, changing forms with the seasons.

Lostlorn Forest – Rare Pokemon Haven

Lostlorn Forest, accessible via Route 16, is home to some of the rarest Pokemon Volt White 2 Pokemon Locations. Use the DexNav feature (if emulated) or simply wander the grass for these highlights:

1. Ralts (Gardevoir line) – A Psychic/Fairy-type powerhouse (fairy moves added via hack).
2. Scyther and Heracross – Two Bug-type titans that can be caught with relative ease.
3. Absol – A Dark-type that can learn a variety of moves, appearing only at night.
4. Phantump (Trevenant) – A Ghost/Grass-type, perfect for Halloween-themed teams.

Deserts, Mountains, and Volcanic Areas

Unova's desert areas have been reworked to include Ground, Rock, and Fire-types that were previously post-game exclusive.

Desert Resort (Relic Castle)

The Relic Castle is now a hotspot for Fossil Pokemon and rare Ground-types. Lileep, Anorith, Cranidos, and Shieldon can all be found in the sand pits after using the Dowsing Machine. Additionally, Trapinch (Flygon line) appears in the desert's grass patches, giving you a Dragon/Ground-type that evolves into a speed demon. For a real treat, Gible also appears in the deepest sandstorm areas, though its encounter rate is low (5%).

Reversal Mountain – A Fiery Challenge

This volcanic cave system is home to both Fire and Poison-types. Notable additions include:

- Magby, Slugma, and Houndour – A trio of fire-types that can be caught regardless of weather.
- Skorupi (Drapion) – A Poison/Dark-type with exceptional defense.
- Koffing and Grimer – Old-school Poison-types now appearing at higher levels.
- Heatran – Yes, the legendary is obtainable here after the Elite Four, but we will cover that later.

Legendary Pokemon Locations in Volt White 2

No guide to Pokemon Volt White 2 Pokemon Locations would be complete without detailing where to find the legendary creatures. Drayano has made many legendaries available before the post-game, as well as adding new ones.

Early to Mid-Game Legendaries

- Virizion, Cobalion, Terrakion – The Swords of Justice appear in the same locations as the base game, but at lower levels (around level 35) and can be encountered before the seventh gym.
- Mewtwo – Found in a hidden chamber within the Giant Chasm after defeating the Elite Four. You will need the DNA Splicers and a special key item obtained from Professor Juniper.
- Rayquaza – Located atop the Skyarrow Bridge after solving a puzzle involving seven sages.

Post-Game Legendaries

1. Arceus – In the Hall of Origin (accessible via a secret staircase in the PWT). Requires all 16 badges and the Azure Flute.
2. Giratina, Palkia, Dialga – Found in the Challenger's Cave after completing the Sinnoh Sound story.
3. Kyogre, Groudon, and Rayquaza – At the Seabreak Path, accessible from Route 22 with the Dive HM.
4. Genesect – In the P2 Laboratory, after defeating the team Plasma remnants.

Tips for Efficient Hunting in Volt White 2

Pokemon Volt White 2 Pokemon Locations are so diverse, you might feel overwhelmed. Here are some practical tips to streamline your search:

- Use Repels and Max Repels: Since many rare Pokemon appear at levels 10–15, using a Repel with a Pokemon at level 20 or higher will force encounters with Pokemon at or above that level, increasing your odds of finding rarer species like Larvitar or Gible.
- Time of Day Matters: Many Pokemon, such as Houndour, Gastly, and Murkrow, only appear at night. Others, like Pichu and Sunkern, are daytime exclusives. Adjust your emulator's clock if needed.
- DexNav: If your emulator supports it (Drastic on Android does), the DexNav feature will highlight hidden Pokemon and increase encounter rates for species you have already seen. Use it to chain rare finds.
- Sweet Scent: This move forces wild encounters in grass and can save time when hunting for specific Pokemon in a large area.
- Save Before Rare Encounters: Some Pokemon have a low catch rate and may flee (like Abra). Always save before engaging to avoid losing a legendary or rare spawn.
